

Inspiring Results through Teamwork - Arctic Pursuit

In a business climate full of opportunities, the challenge is to capitalize on those opportunities. The key to success for any business is knowing the non-negotiables, using available resources effectively, and knowing when to pause and reassess. In Eagle's Flight's engaging experiential learning program, Arctic Pursuit™, participants will be challenged to work together to effectively utilize limited resources. They will then come to a consensus when they need to pause and reassess their strategy in order to produce results in this high-pressure experience. The debrief highlights how the same lessons used to succeed in the experience are essential to success in the pursuit of outstanding results in your workplace.

THE OUTCOME

Individuals will return to work with the ability, tools, and confidence to:

- Prioritize strategy based on the non-negotiables
- Obtain consensus within the team on the set course of action
- Identify and use all available resources
- Commit and take personal ownership and initiative to achieve all that is possible
- Communicate clearly, frequently, and confidently so that everyone has what they need at every step
- Adjust and change the plan, not the goal, based on feedback and progress

THIS ISN'T YOUR ORDINARY LEARNING EXPERIENCE

An Eagle's Flight experiential learning program is unlike anything you or your participants have seen before – it's not another lecture, case study, or role-play. It's an immersive, learn-by-doing experience, where the learning is embedded in an engaging theme intentionally and apparently unrelated to participants' work environments. Why do we do this? It allows participants to simply be themselves in the experience, and act as they normally would at work. This is where true behavior change begins.

By personally experiencing the results that come from applying their existing behaviors, participants see the link between their performance in the experience and the changes they need to make to maximize performance at work. A powerful debrief reinforces the lessons learned in the experience and shows how to apply those lessons back on the job. New competencies are developed, learnings are retained, and individuals are more likely and better able to enthusiastically apply their new knowledge to improve their day-to-day performance.

"The use of your experiences to build understanding and conviction is an Eagle's Flight trademark; and one which, in my opinion, is a true differentiator that sets you apart from all others in your field."
