

JUNIOR SUPPORT ANALYST

Eagle's Flight is seeking a highly self-motivated, customer focused IT individual to join our Business Information Systems department. This role will be the primary contact of the Business Information Systems Help Desk.

You will be responsible for receiving, managing and resolving any Eagle's Flight employee's technical issues.

It is vitally important that the individual strives to provide a high-quality customer-focused interaction that effectively and efficiently resolves the submitted tickets.

Although primarily desk based and utilizing an internal Help Desk ticket software system, it is expected that this individual is roving around the building and directly interacting with our internal customers.

Reporting to the Senior Support Analyst, this position is a perfect entry level career in the Eagle's Flight organization and a career in the IT field.

This is a full-time 12 month contract position. This position will close on June 15, 2019.

Sound like you? If so, find more details on the following page.
